President Truman Declines Invitation To Speak Here On May 30; Barkley Also Refuses

President Harry S. Truman has declined Gettysburg's invitation to deliver the Memorial Day address in the Gettysburg National cemetery May 30. He had been invited on four previous occasions all of which he declined.

President Truman had been asked last June 7 to speak here on Memorial Day. At that time he said he was very much interested in speaking here and that while he was placing the date on his calendar he was unable to make a definite commitment for a date so far away. He asked to be reminded again as the time drew nearer.

During the winter months he was asked, from time to time, by Congressman James F. Lind, who extended the invitation originally at the request of the committee, by U. S. Senator Francis J. Myers and by Pittsburgh Mayor David Lawrence to give a definite commitment.

Delayed Reply

Each time the president was said to have indicated that he wished to speak here but begged off from making a definite commitment, although giving the impression that he hoped to be able to keep the appointment.

The President recently sent a letter through his secretary, Matthew J. Connelly, to Congressman Lind, stating, "The President has asked me to thank you for your letter of March 21st urging that he accept the invitation to deliver the Memorial Day Address in the City of Gettysburg on May 30, 1950."

"The President hopes that he may have an opportunity to do this sometime. However, after giving the matter careful consideration, he finds that he must again decline this year. His calendar for the month of May is already heavily crowded and it would be exceedingly difficult for him at this time, to make even one additional commitment for that period. I am sorry to send you a disappointing reply and want to assure you that the President's failure to do as you ask does not, in any way, indicate a lack of interest or appreciation."

Barkley Declines

"The President sends you his best wishes, in which I join."

Following the usual custom the committee immediately asked Vice President Barkley to speak, but he, also, declined.

A meeting of the committee will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 at the GAR post home, East Middle street, to continue plans for the celebration.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

Harry S. Truman, as President of the United States, has set a new precedent, but for Gettysburg it is not a pleasant one. Five times he has been invited to deliver the Memorial Day address in the sacred Gettysburg National cemetery. Five times he has declined. Thus he becomes the first President of the United States since the late Teddy Roosevelt to refuse to speak here.

Every President since the great "Rough Rider" has spoken in Gettysburg either on Memorial Day or some other occasion during his term in office.

President Theodore Roosevelt, Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt have spoken here on Memorial Day. Teddy Roosevelt was the May 30th speaker on two occasions, once as President in 1904, and again as ex-President, in 1912. Franklin D. Roosevelt spoke here on Memorial Day in 1934 and again on July 3, 1938 when the Eternal Light Peace Memorial was unveiled and dedicated. Coolidge spoke here in 1928 and Hoover in 1930. Presidents Taft, Harding and Wilson also spoke here during their term of office.

President Truman's fifth refusal since he assumed office after the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt is a keen disappointment. The invitation had been extended to him in ample time and his early acceptance would not have interfered with any later commitments he has made, despite the fact that this is a Congressional elections year.

Seven Presidents of the United States considered it an honor and a privilege to speak in this historic community where the martyred Lincoln delivered his immortal address and dedicated a sacred plot of ground. Two of them returned a second time. But Mr. Truman hereby sets a new precedent. He has not only refused five invitations but he thus becomes the first President in 46 years to decline an invitation to come here as an official guest and speaker.

Gettysburg is not a community unto itself. It is a vital part of the nation. As custodian of the 16,000-acre Gettysburg Battlefield where the nation was preserved, and as guardian of the sacred 16-acre National cemetery, where one of the three greatest Presidents this nation ever had delivered the greatest address ever made by mortal man, it is a privilege and a honor for any human to speak here on May 30.

It is not the critical affairs of state that prompted Mr. Truman to decline to speak here this year and it certainly cannot be that, as President, his presence elsewhere will be of greater significance to the nation.

In these trying "cold war" days what an opportunity has been made available to Mr. Truman to stand on this sacred ground on Memorial Day, a day dedicated to all those who gave their lives in defense of this country, and speak, inspiringly, to the nation!

But Mr. Truman has declined for the fifth time.

WHY?

Many Visitors At National Museum

Motorists from 36 states and the District of Columbia, Canada, Australia, the Philippines, Colombia, South America, Venezuela, Newfoundland and Ireland, visited the National museum over the week-end.

There were nine high school graduation classes here for tours of the battlefield and visits to the museum and electric map. A group of 65 enlisted men from the Armed Forces Information school, Carlisle barracks, in charge of Col. John Virden, were also visitors here.

Other groups included 30 seminarians from Catholic university, Washington, D. C., and a church group of four Lutheran churches of the Tyrona area which made a tour of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary before going to the National museum, where they had box lunches and then viewed the electric map.

WORK SESSION IS SCHEDULED FOR TEACHERS

Tentative plans were made at the regular meeting of the Elementary Principals' Association of Adams county, Monday night, in the office of County School Superintendent J. Floyd Slaybaugh, for a teachers' work conference this summer. Lewis Bosserman and Assistant Superintendent Charles I. Raffensperger were appointed to make further plans and a report at the next meeting.

The work conference may replace the workshop which has been held for three weeks each summer for the past three years. Mr. Raffensperger said that teachers have completed the required number of workshop hours, and can obtain no further credits through this form of summer activity. The conference will probably cover a period of three days instead of two weeks.

Discuss Public Relations
The workshop was sponsored by Shippensburg State Teachers' college.

An informal discussion on public relations was also held. Committees were appointed to arrange for art and penmanship exhibits at the South Mountain Fair and the Adams County Fair this fall. The art teachers of the county will be in charge of the art exhibits. Francis Coulson was named chairman of the penmanship committee.

George B. Inskip, president of the association, presided at the meeting.

Concentrate Search For U. S. Navy Patrol Plane Off Danish Island; Find Traces Of Airmen

Wiesbaden, Germany, April 12 (AP)—The search for a missing U. S. Navy patrol plane concentrated today off the Danish island of Bornholm after a rescue pilot reported he had sighted what appeared to be either traces of survivors or wreckage from the plane.

But three hours after receipt of the first report there was no confirmation at U. S. Air Force headquarters in Wiesbaden that this was a positive clue to the plane, a four-engine Privateer which disappeared Saturday on a flight from Wiesbaden to Copenhagen.

Russia protested yesterday that an American plane of the B-29 type had fired on a Soviet fighter over Latvia on the Baltic coast Saturday and disappeared after the Red plane returned the fire. American officials expressed belief the Soviet protest might have referred to the missing navy plane—a four engine single tail version of the B-24 bomber. The American plane was unarmed and had instructions not to fly over Soviet territory, U. S. officials said.

A Danish pilot who circled the area off Bornholm said the American search pilot might have mistaken a Russian buoy for a life raft.

Dr. L. C. Keefauver Will Continue As Gettysburg's Superintendent Of Schools

DR. KEEFAUVER

Dr. Lloyd C. Keefauver, head of the Gettysburg public school system for the last 24 years, was certified by the Gettysburg board of school directors at a special election meeting Tuesday evening as the district superintendent for the next four years.

There was no election necessary, for under new state law no vacancy had been declared by the board. The board had not given notice 60 days ago that it would consider other applicants for the office, so technically no vacancy existed.

The superintendent's salary was fixed at the minimum prescribed by state law for superintendents—$6,000. He has been receiving $5,500 but state law provided an increment.

Superintendent Since 1930

Dr. Keefauver was supervising principal of the Gettysburg schools for four years until Gettysburg became a third class district with the 1930 census and elected him its first superintendent, a position he has filled continuously since that time.

Dr. Keefauver, a native of Mt. Joy township, is a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1915. He did postgraduate work at the University of Maryland and Columbia university. He is a past president of the Gettysburg Lions club, president of the county tuberculosis society and is a member and officer of various professional education organizations. A veteran of World War I, he is a member of the American Legion. He also belongs to the Masons and the Zempo Shrine and has held office in various Masonic groups.

The board directed that steps be taken to improve the high school property by removal of the dwelling house in front of the high school. The school attorney will be consulted in the matter.

Tentative approval of the 1950-51 budget was given with final approval and setting of the tax rate set for the May meeting.

The trustees were James McCauley, John Chamberlin, Daniel King, William W. Paxton, John Gilbert, John McIlvain, William Guinn, J. L. Schick and James Pleyer.

Built Of Native Stone

The church was built of native stone and is now 92 years old. There have been no changes in the architecture of the building which has been kept in good repair. A social hall was recently built on the lawn at the rear of the church for the benefit of church and community alike.

Wesley chapel had ministers listed under the Orrtanna charge for some time and now is supplied by the Mont Alto-Rouzeville—Wesley Chapel charge.

For many years the church had no minister but within a few years the Sunday school was reopened and the church was supplied with ministers from Gettysburg college. For the last 12 years the church has been supplied with Methodist ministers.

The public is invited to attend next Sunday's services.

Excavation for the $165,000 elementary school building in the Upper Adams joint school district to be located in Bendersville adjacent to the Apple Bowl athletic field has been started by the contractors, McCoy Brothers, Inc., Carlisle R. 5.

The new structure will include eight class rooms, cafeteria, offices, health room and a general purpose room. Provisions will be made also for outdoor class rooms and playground facilities. It will be completely modern and well-lighted.

Completion of the building, which will house about 260 students, will supply the district with three elementary centers located in relation to the population centers or attendance areas of the pupils. All elementary centers will train pupils for one secondary center.

The new elementary center will help to ease the present facilities now over-taxed by an increasing enrollment in the elementary schools. It is hoped that the building will be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the 1950-51 school term.

B29 CRASHES ON SECRET WEAPON BASE; 13 DEAD

Albuquerque, N. M., April 12 (AP)—A B-29 bomber carried all 13 airmen aboard to fiery deaths in a crash last night into Sandia Secret Weapons base.

Thirteen crew members were listed on the loading report. An Air Force official warned however, the death toll cannot be determined with absolute accuracy until a actual count of bodies is made.

The Air Force drew a tight security curtain on the tragedy in a remote area of the atomic bomb assembly installation.

Strict Secrecy
Newsmen were barred from entering the area, a spot 7,000 feet high in the Manzano mountains. The scene is some five miles east of Sandia headquarters and 17 miles east of downtown Albuquerque.

A road block was thrown across the only trail leading into the area, just off transcontinental U. S. highway 66.

The likelihood any escaped seemed remote. The giant strategic air command plane from Walker base at Roswell, N. M., plunged to the ground and burned three minutes after it took off from nearby Kirtland field.

Emphasizing the secrecy, one of the officers observed: "Not even the President of the United States could get into the place."

46 ALARMS IN 101 DAYS OF '50

Gettysburg firemen have answered 46 calls thus far this year, nearly as many in slightly more than three months as the total number of calls for all of 1949. There were 53 calls last year.

The two later fires were also grass fires. At 4:30 p. m. firemen went to the home of Howard Eckert, Harrisburg road, near Schriver's Corners. Grass was being burned in a garden adjoining the house and spread to straw and corn stalks banked around the cellar windows of the house. It was put out before firemen arrived.

At 10:25 o'clock Tuesday night the third call took firemen to a grass fire along the Reading railroad tracks south of the Mummusburg road. Booster lines were used.

Since the Reserve Officers Association is composed of reservists from all of the armed forces, Brown said, National Defense Week will emphasize the role of the reservist in peace and war. On the other hand, Armed Forces Day will feature the nation's overall military picture, stressing its combined forces. The theme of National Defense Week is "Eternal Vigilance Is the Price of Liberty," Brown said.

MYERS BACKS FLOOD CONTROL PROJECTS

Washington, April 12 (AP)—Senator Francis Myers (D-Pa.) has asked Congressional approval of two flood control projects in the Keystone state.

Additionally, Myers urged approval of a $29,238,000 project on the Monongahela river in West Virginia. This work, he pointed out in a statement placed in the Congressional Record, would have an important economic effect on western Pennsylvania.

The two Pennsylvania projects Myers spoke for would provide $6,467,000 for Bradford and vicinity and $6,000,000 for the Dyberry reservoir which is part of the Lackawanna river project. These projects are not to be confused with similar ones now included in an appropriation bill now before the House of Representatives. If Congress approves the projects, they would still require specific appropriations to get them started.

MOUNTAINEERS OPEN BASEBALL SEASON TODAY

A double-header scheduled today with Washington college at Emmittsburg will give the Mt. St. Mary's baseball team a stiff assignment in opening its season. Twenty games are carded for the Mountaineers.

Only Irish Bill O'Grady, the ex-New York cop who held down first base and Shortstop Norm Strasser are missing from last year's club.

Coach John Law's pitching staff is headed by a quartet of veterans, Jack Curran, Johnny Smith, Scab Seaton and Charley Harve. An other experienced prospect is Joe Belotti, a senior who didn't come out last year.

The star of the lot, however, might well prove to be newcomer Walt Golymbieski, a native of Waterbury, Conn. He has speed, a good hook, and—so far, anyway—the best control of any pitcher on the squad.

Harvel, a 6-foot-4-inch right-hander, was wild last season, but summer ball has helped him considerably and Law expects better work from him.

Big Hitters Listed
Smith, pretty much of a form pitcher heretofore, has acquired a lot more zip, and he, too, should prove more useful. Seaton, troubled by an ankle, injured playing basketball, won't be in shape for a while yet.

Curran, a three-sport athlete, probably will see service at first base also. When Curran pitches, veteran Second Baseman Jack Vonderlehr will move over to first, but Law doesn't yet know who will fill in at second.

Another newcomer, Charley Morganthaler, is threatening to beat out veteran Tom Lachin for the catching job because of the hitting prowess he has displayed in practice. Charley Gilbrath, and Ted Barkowski head the third base candidates, and the experienced Hobo Melvin is at short.

The all-veteran outfield consists of Joe Shofety in left, Pete Clark in center and Bill Hanlon in right. Other possibilities are Bill Finn, and Bill Gorman.

The big hitters so far appear to be Morganthaler, Shofety, Vonderlehr and Melvin.

The schedule follows:
April 12—Washington (2)
April 13—American
April 15—Catholic U. away
April 19—Shippensburg
April 22—Catholic U.
April 26—Loyola

RED SOX NEED FAST START AS PENNANT TEAM

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 12 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox look like the class team of the American league with awesome power and enough pitching to win the pennant after two close misses.

All they need is a swift boot out of the starting gate.

Joe McCarthy, away from the World Series since 1943, figures to set the Sox off fast and slide home October 1 with a little to spare. Marse Joe knows he can't afford another logy start.

Just as a warning, we handed out the same Red Sox pennant pick the last two years. Look what happened. Cleveland in '48 and the Yankees last summer didn't pay any attention.

New York and Detroit probably will make the most trouble with their fine pitching staffs. The Yankees also have that "strong bench" to help in case of emergencies.

Cleveland has too many infield "ifs" despite prospects of great seasons by pitchers Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia. Lou Boudreau and Joe Gordon must come back to make the Tribe contenders all the way.

Philadelphia's sore arm epidemic cooled off the A's as a flag hope. If Joe Coleman and Dick Power are in serious trouble, they are in tough shape. The other clubs are just in there to fill out the race.

Here's the way it looks from here:
1. Boston
2. New York
3. Detroit
4. Cleveland
5. Philadelphia
6. Chicago
7. St. Louis
8. Washington

Baseball Briefs

Mize To Test Arm
Cincinnati, April 12 (AP)—Big Johnny Mize, New York Yankees' first baseman who has had a bad shoulder since last August, is due to try his arm in a game any day now.

Johnny has not been able to throw properly although he has appeared in pinch-hitting roles this spring. Gus Niarhos is the latest Yank to meet with a mishap. The catcher was hit in the face by a thrown ball during yesterday's pre-game practice. It left a cut on his right cheek.

The Yankees beat Indianapolis, 5-2, yesterday.

Sox Catcher Hurt
Roanoke, Va., April 12 (AP)—Boston Red Sox Catcher Birdie Tebbets may be unable to open the season behind the bat. He suffered a split finger yesterday and will be out for some time. The Sox are scheduled to play the Roanoke Red Sox, a Boston farm, here today.

Indian Goes Route
Topeka, Kans., April 12 (AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau today had a Cleveland pitcher who had gone an entire exhibition game.

But aside from that he was not cheering too strongly about his supposedly top grain pitching staff. And even the distance Sam Zoladak went yesterday was not the regulation game. The left hander worked only seven innings as the Tribe beat the New York Giants, 6-1, in Wichita. Additional innings were called so both teams could take the Topeka train.

Simmons In Form
Memphis, Tenn., April 12 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies' flag hopes were riding high today thanks to a sparkling six-inning, no-hit performance by young Curt Simmons.

The lean left-hander, a $65,000 flop for three seasons, pitched near perfect ball for six innings yesterday against the Memphis Chicks of the Southern Association. Another southpaw, Ed Wright, worked the last three frames and permitted two hits. The Phils won, 9-0.

Simmons appears to have earned a starting berth along with Robin Roberts, Russ Meyer and Ken Heintzelman. A fifth starter is yet to be chosen.

A's And Nats In Tie
Charlotte, N. C., April 12 (AP)—Philadelphia's Athletics will have to wait for the regular season to settle their score with the Washington Senators.

The rubber game of their five-game spring training series last night wound up in a 7-7 tie. The game was called after 11 innings. In four previous meetings, the A's and Senators had won twice each.

A base knock in the ninth inning by Veteran Wally Moses enabled the A's to tie the game.

Kiner Practices
Indianapolis, April 12 (AP)—Fresh from an 8-7 victory over the Atlanta Crackers, the Pittsburgh Pirates arrive here today to tangle with their American Association farm club, the Indianapolis Indians.

Ralph Kiner practiced with the team yesterday but didn't get into the game with the crackers. There was some speculation he might be in the lineup today but Manager Billy Meyer gave no official nod.

Election Committee of the organization, which is seeking to mobilize church-going residents of the state to vote in the May 16 primary.

Eddie Plank 41 Years Ago

Philadelphia, April 12 (AP)—Forty-one years ago today the gates of Shibe park swung open to the public for the first time.

Remember? On that day in 1909, a crowd of 30,126 jammed into the Philadelphia Athletics' ball park to watch Eddie Plank pitch the A's to an 8-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Plank's catcher was Doc Powers. In the infield, among others, were Stuffy McInnis and Eddie Collins.

This Speaker was playing in the outfield for the Red Sox while Frank Arrelanes did the pitching and Bill Carrigan the catching.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Atlanta, Ga., April 12 (AP)—The only thing I told Dick Jones this spring was to find me an extra-point kicker and a piano player, chuckled Robert Lee Todd, Georgia Tech's football coach. "I sure do like to have a piano player on my team. The boys have more fun on the road."

Dick Jones, Tech's No. 1 talent "co-ordinator," chimed in: "I've got one, coach—for two years from now. He's down at a little high school in the hills now and he's good. When he gets through with football I'm going to sign him up for a radio show."

Dodd, besides being one of the South's best coaches, seems to get more fun out of it than anyone else. He was fooling around with some split-T plays early in spring practice but gave them up just because of that. "I'll retain the basic play, the quarterback keep, Bobby says, 'but when the split-T is working it's a running game and I like to throw the ball.'"

The fans in Atlanta want to see that, too. You know, I think I'd stop coaching if I couldn't throw."

HIS ONLY WEAKNESS
Dodd, who used to be quite a golf fan, got to talking about the Masters tournament and the way Jim Ferrier's game fell apart at the finish. "That's why Bobby quit the same—There's enough strain in football. I'd rather go fishing so I can really relax. But he added he had played in one match that showed him just how Ferrier must have felt. "Seems the boys had been waging a few pennies on their game and they piled up until everything depended on one two-foot putt."

The player punched at it and the ball died six inches short of the cup. "As it trickled to a stop, the suffering golfer turned to his partner and said: 'Honest to gosh, I hit it with every ounce of strength in my body.'"

Earl Mann, who operated the Atlanta Crackers as an independent ball club for years, isn't too happy about his new hook-up with the Braves. They've only provided about one or two useful players. . . . Pittsburgh's Dapper Dan club is planning to show off Home Boy Ezzard Charles in a heavyweight title defense this summer. Frank (Muscle) Stramhan the golfer, spent considerable time talking to George (Brains) Halas, the pro football maestro in Phoenix last winter. Frank reports enthusiastically: "He has some very interesting ideas about physical conditioning."

Washington, April 12 (AP)—White House Architect Lorenzo Winslow is trying to get the jump on future presidents who might go in for some private alterations on the executive mansion.

He said in a speech on Monday that one of the major factors responsible for the present reconstruction of the White House is that each occupant has installed his "own favorite devices" without technical advice.

Washington, April 12 (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey has vetoed a bill that would have prevented major league baseball clubs from staging "split" doubleheaders, with double admission fees.

"This is still a free country," Dewey observed in vetoing a bill introduced by a Brooklyn Dodger fan, Assemblyman Lawrence P. Murphy.

The Brooklyn Democrat said his bill was aimed at stopping what he called "the common practice" at Ebbets Field of playing morning and afternoon games, or afternoon and evening games on doubleheader days. Fans must pay two admissions to see both games.

Billiards Star Dies On Tuesday
Philadelphia, April 12 (AP)—Andrew Ponzi, three-time winner of the world's pocket billiards title and one of the game's most popular players died yesterday in Hahnemann hospital. He was 47.

Ponzi was stricken with a heart attack two weeks ago. His death came less than a month after that of another famed cue artist—in the same hospital, Ralph Greenleaf, 59, one of the top players of the game and 14-times world champion, died of a cerebral hemorrhage on March 15.

Born Andrew Dalesandro in Philadelphia, Ponzi was placed in St. John's Orphan asylum at the age of four after the death of his father, Felix.

He showed his first proficiency as a billiards player at the age of 16. At that time Charles Ponzi, notorious Boston swindler, was in the headlines and, because the youthful billiards player won many bets his friends dubbed him "Ponzi." He adopted the name professionally a few years later.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
TO PLEASE THE EYE

These eyes of ours were given to us, not only for merely seeing ahead, or for guiding us to our work, or for reading. More than that — far more! We have eyes that we may see and dream, that we may, through them, feed the heart.

Take the collector, for example. It may be books, prints, paintings, those exquisite bits of sculptured porcelain, or rare china. There is a challenge to the soul in them all.
One of the beautiful essays of Charles Lamb is on "Old China," and he remarks to his Bridget "upon a set of extraordinary old blue china
" and could not help remarking how favorable circumstances had been to us of late years, that we could afford to please the eye sometimes with trifles of this sort."

To the true lover of beauty the eye reaches out and grasps the love of things, as the nostrils do rare perfume. Art is beauty, and if it isn't beautiful, it isn't art! I recently viewed the great masterpieces Austria has loaned to the United States that millions may feast their eyes upon paintings that appear almost marvelous in their perfection of blended color. That one painting by Vermeer "The Artist in his Studio" is worth a trip across America just to see and nourish the soul. Of this artist's work E. V. Lucas once wrote:
"That marvel of paint, that miracle of sweetness and light."

Can anyone doubt that God put beauty into nature and life for any other purpose than to please the eye, so that the mind and heart might rejoice? Beauty is nourishment to the eye. There are all too few nourishers in this world. Again, in that Lamb essay, quoted, he speaks of the time when they were poor, and wrote: "I am sure we saw, and heard too, will enough then—but sight, and all I think is gone with our poverty."

Prize the eye and we open the door to endless wealth of mind and spirit. A mere fragment of beauty may be more precious than all the wealth a Croesus could buy!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Shutters of the Mind."

I know within their ribbon ink

Lies every thought that man

I fashion from the lettered keys

Such simple verses as are these,

Among them lovelier lines will

There, waiting for the gifted

The songs by which men's hearts

Are there in hiding, still unheard.

Great truths are here beyond

If I could only pick them out.

DEMANDS "RED" SUSPICIONS BE REMOVED

MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, April 12 (AP)—Senator
Taft (R-Ohio) demanded today that President Truman "eliminate any suspicion of treason" from the administration "if he can."

Taft, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, also accused Mr. Truman of labeling Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) and of pre-judging McCarthy's charges of Communist in the State Department.

As Taft let fly at the President, the stage was set for former Communist Louis Budenz and Owen Latimore, Far Eastern specialist and Johns Hopkins professor, to confront each other at a public hearing April 20.

Doesn't Know Budenz

McCarthy has said that Budenz will swear that he knew Latimore to be a member of the Communist party.

Latimore testified under oath last night that he never has been a Communist and that he never knowingly has promoted the cause of Communism. He also flatly denied McCarthy's contention that he is Russia's head spy in this country.

Latimore said in a statement yesterday that he does not know Budenz, and "to the best of my recollection I have never met him and have never been associated directly or indirectly with him."

Budenz, former managing editor of the Daily Worker, renounced Communism in 1945 after serving the party for 10 years. He then rejoined the Catholic church. He is now on the faculty at Fordham university in New York.

The committee agreed to let Latimore reply to Budenz, also a public hearing Latimore already has said that anyone who swears he is or has been a Communist is a perjurer and should be prosecuted.

Taft expressed his views on the investigation of McCarthy's charges in his weekly column, "Washington Report," to Ohio newspapers.

He sharply criticized Mr. Truman for declining to give the inquiry committee access to FBI files and other confidential government loyalty records.

REDS MANEUVER TO PLACE U.S. ON DEFENSIVE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

This is no time for Uncle Sam's citizenry to lose tempers and restraint in connection with the mysterious Soviet-American air incident over the Latvian coast.

True, there highly aggravating elements in the situation. But this is a bad moment to rock the boat. The matter should be pursued with dignified restraint until we know just what has happened.

We can proceed with confidence that we are capable of handling anything we may be called upon to deal with.

Strongarm Staff

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, pursuing his usual strong-arm method, has used harsh language in charging "a gross violation of the Soviet frontier (Latvia) by an American military plane." He declares this "constitutes an unheard of violation of the elementary rules of international law."

The tale as Vishinsky unfolds it is that last Saturday "a 4-engine military plane of the B-29 type, a Flying Fortress, bearing American identification marks was sighted" south of Libau (Lepaya), Latvia. When the plane penetrated what Russia claims is Soviet territory, a flight of fighter planes demanded that the American plane follow it to a nearby airfield. Then:

"The American plane not only failed to comply with this demand but opened fire on the Soviet planes. Owing to this, an advanced Soviet fighter was forced to open fire in reply, after which the American plane turned towards the sea and disappeared."

Peculiar Coincidence

That's the Soviet story. By peculiar coincidence the U. S. Air Force headquarters at Wiesbaden, Germany, had been searching for a missing U. S. plane—a Navy version of the B-24 bomber—over the Baltic. This plane was unharmed, it was said, and had a crew of 10. That may be the unfortunate craft which encountered a flight of Soviet fighters.

An extraordinary aspect of this situation is that it was Saturday when the American plane was fired on and "turned towards the sea and disappeared" but it wasn't until yesterday (Tuesday) that Vishinsky brought the matter to the attention of the American authorities. Why the long delay?

It looks as though Moscow, not knowing what had happened to the American plane after it was shot at, had waited to see what action America might take. Then, sensing that the U. S. plane might be lost, the Soviet decided to take time by the forelock and beat Washington to the punch.

SEAMAN LOST IN SHIP BLAST

New York, April 12 (AP)—One person was feared lost, but 50 others were reported saved today from a terrific explosion and fire which ravaged a Norwegian ship in mid-Atlantic.

The Coast Guard said radio messages from an Italian rescue ship reported 40 crewmen and 10 passengers of the blast-racked freighter Geisha had been picked up from lifeboats.

The first mate of the 5,113-ton Geisha was reported missing. His name was not given.

The rescue ship, the Maria Paolina G., radioed that the Geisha was carrying a cargo of nitrates, a high explosive, when the first in a series of blasts rocked the ship about noon yesterday.

Crewmen and passengers abandoned the vessel and all but the first mate were reported picked up from the lifeboats. Earlier, it was believed all hands had been saved.

Following the explosions, the radio reports said, "the whole ship burst into fire." It was first thought that Norwegian vessel would sink immediately, the messages said, but the ship today was described as "drifting" and "still on fire." The burning ship was some 1,442 miles east of New York and 400 miles west of the Azores.

Potatoes were brought to Europe from South American by Spaniards.

DUFF TO SPEAK IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, April 12 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff, who wants the Republican nomination for U. S. senator, moved his campaign caravan into this coal and steel capital today.

Duff and his running mate, John S. Fine, who seeks the GOP governor nomination, will address a party rally tonight.

The Duff-Fine forces began their western Pennsylvania tour in Washington, Pa., last night. That's the hometown of U. S. Senator Edward Martin, who backs Jay Cooke for the Republican nomination for governor.

Judge Fine leveled his fire at Martin, declaring: "Men who cannot give a majority for their own party in their own county are seeking to dictate the Republican party philosophy in the commonwealth."

The former Superior Court judge said Democrats would have carried Pennsylvania in 1948-49 had it not been for the Duff administration.

Governor Duff charged the Joseph Grundy-G. Mason Owlett Republican faction "puts a dollar sign before social responsibility." Although 67 himself, the governor said that Grundy is old enough to be his father.

The Duff-Fine caravan will move into Westmoreland and Fayette counties tomorrow. Friday it will cover Cambria, Somerset and Bedford counties.

PLAN R. R. TALKS

Chicago, April 12 (AP)—The nation's railroads, faced with a series of threatened strikes of operating brotherhoods, planned further talks with union officials today. A country-wide walkout by the Railroad Yardmasters of America, scheduled for this morning, was postponed for at least 60 days yesterday. But two major strikes, which would tie up the nation's carriers, still threatened.

New Delhi, India, April 12 (AP)—Fifty persons were reported killed today when a passenger train jumped the track and crashed into a stream 45 miles south of Braeuly in Uttar Pradesh. Seventy-three were said to have been injured.

Must Save Europe's Youth From Reds

Latrobe, Pa., April 12 (AP)—The American people must do something to dissuade European youth from communism, in the opinion of State American Legion head, Walter E. Alessandrini.

Alessandrini has just returned to the United States after distributing the Legion's "tide of joys" to underprivileged children in seven European countries.

The World War II veteran told the 31st American Legion district last night: "There is no reason for Russia to fight a military war since she is able to infiltrate and win over the youth of Germany, Italy and France, particularly."

Alessandrini said Gerhard Eisler, American communist who jumped bond and escaped to Europe, is now propaganda minister of east Germany. Eisler, the Legion commander said, has organized two German youth movements taking in boys from 4 to 16.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 12 (AP)—

The tourist is always right, Atlantic City citizens are being told. As far as the Chamber of Commerce is concerned, grump residents can jolly well stay indoors.

A leaflet to be distributed in this resort and convention town says that "without visitors there would be no Atlantic City," and persons who "lack the intelligence or the desire" to realize this "should avoid contact with our visitors."

BOOKLET BY SENATE GIVES DEBT FIGURES

By ARTHUR IDSON
Washington, April 12 (P)—As it was great to be alive in 1940, it was almost as great to be alive in 1949. That was the year the national debt almost tripled, and became a mere 21 cents per capita. Compare this with the present when it has skyrocketed to $1,698.06, and you'll see how times have changed.

This fiscal intelligence comes to us today from a booklet put out by the Senate committee on executive expenditures. The title of the booklet is "Increased Cost of the Federal Government." It contains a list of interesting figures.

Only since Civil War

Even as the fact that not until the Civil War did the per capita debt amount to so much. In 1903 it climbed to $75.01. Then it dropped down to around $12 to $15 per each and stayed there to World War I.

This set us off, and we've never been the same since. It went up to $242.52 in 1919; dwindled to $121.51 in 1929, and then began creeping up again.

World War II lit the fuse, and the debt went sky high. The peak was 1946, when it was $1,907.32 for each man, woman and child.

They Weren't Happy

Well, this is no place to argue how much debt is too much. But I thought you might be interested in that taxpayer of 1940, the one with the 21-cent per capita national debt.

Was he happy?

Surprisingly, the answer is no. Martin Van Buren was President.

Vet Highway Dept. Engineer Resigns

Harrisburg, April 12 (AP)—Warren K. Myers, who had served with the state Highways Department for more than a score of years, has resigned his $9,000 a year post as the department's chief maintenance engineer.

Myers declined to comment yesterday on a report that he quit because of an order to raise political funds by assessments on his employees.

"I'm a professional engineer, not a politician," Myers said. He had worked in the department since 1923, except for the four-year Democratic administration of Gov. George H. Earle.

Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock said "I regret that he's leaving. He's a very able man."

"There's nothing political about the resignation," Smock added.

Producers now are developing many vegetables adopted particularly for freezing.

SEED can rightfully be spelled with a dollar sign this year ... dollars you can harvest.

Enough grass, alfalfa, clover and other legume seed is needed to plant 51 million acres, replacing soil-depleting crops. Present seed production is scarcely half sufficient.

A home-owned ALL-CROP Harvester can help you cash in with these high-pay crops as well as with grains, beans, sorghums. Its full width, rubber-shielded bar cylinder reduces crackage. Quiet, V-belt drives, over-size threshing rear, precision wind valves, and Air Blast Separation, enable the All-Crop to harvest over 100 crops. UNBALANCED WHEELS CAUSE:

1. Uneven tire wear resulting in premature failure.
2. The pounding out of grease and oils in vital front end parts, thus causing more rapid wear.
3. Abnormal wear of wheel bearings, bushings, king pins, tie rod ends, knee action parts, and steering gear parts.
4. Excessive body and chassis strains.
5. Rough riding and danger at high speeds.
6. Hard steering.
7. Wheel misalignment because of excessive vibration.
8. Increased gas and oil consumption — Decrease in average speed.

Static unbalance causes wheels to hop up and down, resulting in excessive vibration and hard steering.

Dy-namic unbalance causes the wheels to vibrate rapidly sideways, producing abnormal wear on tires and front end parts.

HOT WAR HELD "NOT LIKELY" WITH RUSSIA

Washington, April 12 (AP)—A hot war with Russia as a result of an airplane shooting scrape or any other single incident is regarded by American diplomatic and military authorities as highly unlikely.

At the State department and Pentagon, there was no inclination to treat lightly an official protest from Moscow that an American B-29 type bomber had violated Soviet territory in the Baltic area, fired on Russian fighter planes and been fired upon in return.

But neither was there so much as a suggestion that either country might want to go on from there to knock chips off shoulders.

The Next Steps
U. S. officials indicated yesterday that the truth of the matter may be that an unarmed American Navy patrol plane, missing since Saturday, was shot down by Russian fighters. The next steps appear to be:

A tartly worded rejection of the Russian protest. A complaint of our own that the Soviets evidently shot down an unarmed American plane. A sharpening of tension and a further deterioration of relations, just as there were when Russia blockaded Berlin. Additional exchanges of angry notes.

Won't Pick Fight
Yet officials here say we certainly don't want to pick a fight with anyone and they have an idea the Russians want to avoid one within the foreseeable future.

They reason that since World War II the Reds have pushed the frontiers of communism forward here and there without using military force and probably will want to see how far they can go with the process. So they look for continued Russian probing for weak spots, continued pressure short of the use of arms. If the Russians did knock down the missing U. S. patrol plane, the Moscow protest could be viewed as an application of theory that a good offense is the best defense.

U. S. Gives Military Help To Thailand

Bangkok, April 12 (AP)—The United States has granted $10,000,000 worth of arms and other military aid to a Thailand threatened by communism, Premier Pibul Songgram disclosed Tuesday.

This was the first concrete manifestation of decisions reached at the Bangkok conference in February.

Philip C. Jessup, U. S. ambassador-at-large, set forth the U. S. position there of giving military assistance to Asian nations displaying the will to stand against the communist tide.

Under Songgram's leadership, the tiny kingdom of Thailand has taken its place alongside democratic powers in the cold war against communism. But the war is more hot than cold in southeast Asia, which lies athwart the mighty new communist nation of China and itself is riddled with Reds.

Tokyo, April 12 (AP)—The Japanese patriarch who gave Washington its famed cherry trees will visit the United States soon to see them.

Yukio Ozaki, 91, recalled the gift today in a newspaper article. He said he sent the trees while mayor of Tokyo to express Japan's gratitude for President Theodore Roosevelt's mediation in the Russo-Japanese war in 1905.

A&P ANSWERS FEDERAL SUIT

New York, April 12 (AP)—Striking back at a government anti-trust suit, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company says the Justice Department's legal theories would upset the nation's whole economic structure.

Denying charges that it is a monopoly, the big food chain said Monday the public would suffer "irreparable injury" if the company is broken up.

There is "no justification in fact or in law for the drastic and confiscatory destruction" of the chain, the company said in its first formal reply to the civil anti-trust action in U. S. district court.

The 109-page answer accused the government of "asking this court to adopt, by judicial fiat, new and extremist principles of law which would result in complete remodeling of the entire economic structure of the country."

The government suit, filed last September, accuses the company of monopolistic restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman Anti-trust act.

The company described its expansion over 90 years as "natural growth," almost entirely within the company, and not by mergers or absorption of competitors. The firm claimed it has contributed greatly to "revolutionizing the food business" with vast savings to consumers and "especially to worker families."

New York, April 12 (AP)—Hugh Ernst, 39-year-old radio producer and husband of actress Betty Furness, committed suicide with a shotgun in a hotel room on Monday. A clipping of a newspaper Broadway Column reporting that Ernst and Miss Furness were to be divorced was found in the room. Ernst telephoned to the New York Journal-American at 11:40 p. m. and told an editor: "If you want a story, come up and get it."

Harrisburg, April 12 (AP)—The state Chamber of Commerce today looked for virtual statewide observance of daylight saving time in 1950.

The last Sunday in April traditionally marks the opening of "fast" time—when clocks are set ahead one hour to take advantage of additional daylight in the evening. April's last Sunday this year falls on April 30. Daylight saving time will end September 24.

A state Chamber spokesman said informal survey showed that of all replies to a questionnaire not one declared in favor of continuing standard time.

"Last year we didn't even make a survey because it was observed so universally throughout the state," said the spokesman.

Pennsylvania law requires that commonwealth operations be scheduled standard time. State officials, although leaving official clocks on standard time, have usually changed the starting hours of work and similar functions to conform with daylight saving time.

NEW GADGETS FOR THE HOME

Almost daily manufacturers' folders appear announcing the production of new materials, new gadgets, or new ideas which will improve the home by their contribution to convenience.

While some of these new devices or methods may fail to justify their expense, many are worthwhile features which do much to modernize the home. Among those seeming practical are the following:

Cellar Bulkheads Solve Problem
Steel cellar bulkheads may solve the problem of outside basement doors if wooden doors rot away.

Glass bricks may be substituted for actual bricks above ground in a basement wall to provide additional light for very dark cellars.

Ash drops in fireplaces are being manufactured new ready for installation. By means of these it is unnecessary to take ashes out of the fireplace and carry them through the house for disposal.

Fireplace dampers close the opening in the chimney when the fireplace is not in use and thus close a possible source of heat loss.

Threshold Weatherstripping
Threshold weatherstripping goes under doors and forms a seal to cut off chilly drafts during cold weather.

Taking for decorating the rim of fireplace openings is now available in stock sizes.

Double windows are now being made for areas where winters are severe. The air pocket between the panes illustrates a sound insulation principle. The double windows fit into regular window-sash frames and open with them.

Reproduction of old hand-riveted shingles are being made of fireproof asbestos but possessing the texture of wood.

New wire-screen guards fit over gutters and prevent leaves and twigs from clogging waterspouts.

Felt May Remedy Squeaking Floors

In a home there's nothing more irritating than a creaking floor. Even a single noisy board can become most annoying.

"In our former home we had hardwood floors and they were squeaky," complained one reader. "How can we prevent this in building our new house?"

In all probability, the floor in the old house was laid when the boards were dry. Afterward they absorbed moisture and swelling loosened the nails that held them to the sub-floor.

When the floors dried out later the boards worked along the nails and squeaks resulted.

Much of this trouble can be overcome by putting building felt between the sub and finish floors. This keeps moisture from working up from the basement and damaging the floor finish.

Insulating Board Useful In Attics

Years ago only the luxurious home included a private den where the man of the house could retreat for undisturbed reading or work. With the building materials now available, however, almost any home owner with unused attic space can provide himself with a comfortable study. An economical material ideally suited to this use is insulating board. It is especially desirable for attic partitions since it provides effective insulation against heat and cold.

COLORLED FLAG STONES

Colored cement flag stones under a big tree, where grass does not grow due to the heavy shade, may solve the problem of many a gardener. These stones may be made by casting them in wooden forms and then setting them in the location to which they are going, or if there is sod under the tree, spaces may be cut out of the sod and then scooped out portions filled in with cement, then troweled thus forming an irregular flagstone pattern between strips of grass growing between.

MAIL CHUTES ARE HANDY

There are mail chutes on the market which may be built into a wall beside the front entrance door. There is a slit through which the mail may be pushed and a box on the inside into which the letters drop. These are standard devices and are very acceptable, particularly if one expects to be away from home a few days and doesn't wish to take a chance on the mail being lost.

WHEATLANDS SWEEP BY 3RD BIG DUST STORM

(By The Associated Press)
The third big dust storm of the year swept wide sections of the nation's wheatlands in mid-America on Monday.

And with the blow came fears that strong April winds may whip up more trouble for farmers already harassed by long dry spells.

Kansas and Oklahoma, two of the nation's top wheat producing states, took the brunt of yesterday's winds. But strong gusts also kicked up valuable top soil in the Texas Panhandle, eastern Colorado and New Mexico both Sunday and yesterday.

The winds were not considered quite as strong as a heavy blow two weeks ago.

Could Lead to Heavy Loss
An agronomist at the Ft. Hays, Kas., agricultural experiment station pointed out, however, that in the previous dust storms this year only small areas were blowing, but yesterday's winds, eroded larger spots. A prolonged dry spell has loosened the soil.

"This could lead to most severe damage," said Agronomist A. F. Swanson. "The wind also is beginning to work the soil into a fine powder. And when this happens we will really have a problem."

The dust was so thick yesterday in parts of Kansas that visibility for a time was zero. The highway patrol closed one U. S. highway west of Salina because of the dust hazard. The worst conditions in Oklahoma were reported in the northern part of the state with visibility cut to half a mile around Pawnee. The weather bureau described the Oklahoma blow as "not too severe."

Wheat Needs Rain

The winds, which reached more than 50 miles an hour at times, diminished last night, however, in the two states. They also subsided yesterday in Texas, Colorado and New Mexico.

In addition to blowing away top soil, the winds also dry out the land.

A good rain is badly needed in wide areas of Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma if the winter wheat crop is to be successful.

Yesterday the Agriculture department forecast the winter wheat crop at 764,000,000 bushels as of April 1, a decline of 121,000,000 from the December 1 estimate. Dry weather and a bug infestation were blamed for the drop.

TWO AUTOPSIES ARE HELD TODAY

Clearfield, Pa., April 12 (AP)—Two autopsies today may clear up the mystery surrounding the deaths of a man and a woman in a wrecked taxicab.

Clearfield County Judge F. Carter Beil yesterday turned down a request to have a Pittsburgh pathologist present at the autopsies. The request was filed by Pittsburgh Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, representing the dead woman's husband.

Ernest Brobst, Mrs. Brobst, 32, and cab driver Mayril Sones, 24, were found dead of head injuries February 5 after Sones' cab struck a tree in Du Bois. Brobst was found injured a short distance away.

The deaths were listed as accidental until Clearfield County District Attorney Joseph A. Dague got a court order to exhume the bodies last week.

The autopsies will be performed by Dr. Milton Ackerman, pathologist at the Butler Memorial hospital. He will submit his findings in a detailed written report to the district attorney's office. District Attorney Dague said it will be several days before findings are released.

Building Ideas For Home Owners Of This Community

The Greenbrier Is Up To Date

"The Greenbrier" Home-of-the-Week presented today offers an unusual and up-to-date design for a small family that wants to enjoy modern living on one floor but would like a chance to expand when the occasion arises.

A living room, bath, two good-sized bedrooms, dining room, kitchen, laundry space and an attached garage are available on the first floor level of this house. The second floor plan allows for two bedrooms and a bathroom.

Measuring 32x27 feet, this house has a cubage of 18,200 feet, with an additional 3,300 feet required for the garage. Very careful planning was required on the part of the architect in order to design this plan with seven good-sized rooms in such a small cubage.

In order to keep down construction costs, the designer of "The Greenbrier" eliminated one very expensive construction detail—namely, a fireplace. However, a shallow false fireplace can be built in the corner of the living room, as shown in the house plan. Overall frontage of this design is 48 feet, and a lot with at least a 60-foot frontage should be used.

Simple Modifications
While this house is of the usual Cape Cod design, the few inexpensive and simple modifications lift it out of the ordinary classification. A brick front has been used effectively and a trellised pattern, located in front of the white porch on either side of the doorway, seems to help support the small projecting gable while, at the same time, it breaks the monotony of a flat roof space. An overhead light is centered in the gable over the doorway.

The roof could be covered with fire resistant red or mottled brown shingles, and white trim would look very attractive. Built-in wooden gutters are used throughout, and copper or bronze screening although the aluminum type may be used. Inexpensive shrubbery will add a great deal to the exterior appearance of this simple design.

Substantial, appearing cement door steps lead up to the white stock Colonial door which has four small overhead glass panels. The front door opens into a small hallway serving three outlets, and containing a good-sized coat closet. A straight stairway, leading to the second floor, is located adjacent to this closet.

An archway opening at the left of the hallway leads to the charming living room which is 14x14 feet but looks even larger because of the bay window in the side wall. There is another window in the front wall. Another archway in the rear wall opens on the petit dining room which is 11x8 feet. The neat built-in china cabinets occupy the back corner wall space on either side of the picture window. Indirect lights, located on top of these cabinets, give a soft even glow to this room.

L-Shaped Hallway
On the right wall space is a doorway opening into the L-shaped hallway that serves the right side of the house. The bathroom door is on the left side of this hallway as one enters from the dining room. Of modern design, this bathroom is complete with built-in shower features. The doorway to the cellar stairs is also located in the hallway just opposite the bathroom door. Adjacent to the cellar stairway is an archway that leads to the other part of the hallway. A good-sized storage closet is located at the end of the hallway just opposite the archway, and a large linen closet has been built into the left wall of the hall.

Measuring 12x12 feet, the front bedroom opens off the L-shaped hallway. Two windows and a large closet space are found in this room. The other bedroom, also located off the hallway, measures 12x11 feet and has the same appointments as the front bedroom.

The full cement basement contains a heater room located under the kitchen. A bulkhead can easily be constructed to lead from this heater room to the back yard. The entire balance of the basement can be used for storage, a game room, a hobby or work shop, food storage space or for whatever other purpose the builder may desire.

Forced hot water heat with an oil burner is recommended for this design of house. Either copper or bronze tubing is used for water service piping.

The average family would have to look hard and long before finding a house that offers as many fine features, and such an excellent layout for as economical a price as does "The Greenbrier."
